Using sheet glass and fused glass mosaic techniques to create your own small original artwork in glass, our mini-workshops are a great introduction to working with glass suitable for all ages.

Workshop Fee $50.00 per person

Includes tuition, use of studio & equipment, kiln firings and all glass and materials used in the workshop.

Skill Level - Beginner

Mini-Workshops are designed for small groups of 4-10 people. (Minimum of 4 per class)

A Perfect Half Day Activity!

Mini-Workshops at Sand and Fire Studio are a perfect way for small groups to get together socially for a fun, informative and creative day out.

Along with a fascinating studio talk introducing guests to the history of glass and explaining the warm glass slumping and fusing process - each guest will learn how to cut glass and be guided through the process as they create their own small fused glass project.

Guests work with a wide range of pre-cut coloured glass to create a decorative light catcher or tile. For those who are quick additional pieces can be made for a further $10.00 each.

Works completed on the day will be fired and available for pick up from the studio the following week. Alternatively - finished work can be packaged and mailed to your address for an additional $5.00 (per mailing address)
